Meet the Parents: "The Mindy Project" Casts Mindy's Parents!

The Mindy Project is back and delving deeper than ever before: we finally get to meet Mindy's parents!

Reports confirm House of Cards star Sakina Jaffrey and Royal Pains star Ajay Mehta have been cast as Mindy's onscreen parents.

The casting announcement at least partially resolves last season's cliffhanger ending in which Danny sets out for India to ask Mindy's parents for their blessing to marry Mindy, but the episode stops short of introducing the parents themselves. At last, we know where Mindy gets her good looks!

Both actors have ample television experience: Jaffrey has appeared on Sleepy Hollow, Third Watch, Madam Secretary and Girls, and Mehta has ample experience in the sitcom realm, having appeared on Modern Family, Anger Management and New Girl, among others.

The news is a relief for fans, who were devastated after Fox canceled the show in May before Hulu brought it back from the dead weeks later. Production on the 26-episode fourth season is currently underway.

We hope they give Danny their blessing!
